PETITE RETREAT

Small kitchens can be a design challenge, but this project in Chelsea proves that you don't have to play it safe just because you're limited for space. Curvaceous Italian cabinetry and a stunning spray-painted mural prove the adage that beautiful things really can come in tiny packages

THE owner

Amanda works full time in the City and lives in a two-bedroom flat inside a Regency townhouse in fashionable Chelsea. The kitchen may be small, but she knew that good design could make it much more welcoming.

The starting zebra design was spray-painted onto the shutter doors by street artist Jason Warren, also known as Busk. The chair is the Fly Chair from Italian brand Arketipo.
